

Introduction

Have you ever struggled with seemingly simple steps in your Christian walk, or asked why others seem to float above the challenges that wear you down? Maybe you've even secretly wondered if God was hearing your cries for help.

If you have, then you're in the right place.

Our presenter today is an artist, author, Bible journaler—and most importantly a child of God. And she's had challenges just like you. She's spent decades on her knees waiting for answers, laid awake nights wondering if the Lord would pick up the phone - and has yet been delighted to find God's answers still show up right on time.

Besides being a person with creativity leaking out of her pores, our presenter is an expert at long walks in the dog park with her two oversized pups, she watches way too many online animation videos, and she is in training for the Silliness Olympics!

And now, get ready to have your heart encouraged and your thinking expanded. Please join me in welcoming author, child of God, and self-proclaimed art nerd—Sandy Allnock*!
